

ABDULLOEVI, Parviz

Candidate of legal sciences
Adjunct professor
Department of justice and prosecutorial oversight
Tadjic National University Law Faculty
1986_parviz.a@mail.ru

Problems of extradition of criminals subject to international cooperation in countries of Central Asia and decisions of European Court of Human Rights

Key words: International cooperation; extradition; the post-Soviet territory; countries of Central Asia; European court of human rights; international treaties; torture and inhumane treatment; criminal procedure laws

The author analyzes the topical issues related to extradition of criminals from the countries of Central Asia pursuant to court practice of the European Court of Human Rights. These countries are not the signatories of the European Convention on Human Rights and the jurisdiction of the Court does not extend to their territory. However such countries have signed treaties on international legal assistance and extradition of criminals with such signatories as Russia, Ukraine, Turkey etc. The author concludes that in case the execution of extradition warrant does not comply with the provisions of the European Convention the signatory state may choose not to extradite such criminals.

BELOV, Vadim Anatolevich

Doctor of Legal sciences
Department of commercial law and law science
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
bva5871@yandex.ru

Russian private law: determining research profile

Key words: Law science (jurisprudence); private law; civil law science; commercial law science; subject matter of legal research; methods of legal research

The article deals with the most topical issues of private law (civil law and commercial law), which, according to the author, require thorough research and understanding. The aim of the article is to provide methodological assistance to the departments of civil and commercial law developing further research projects as well as to students of Bachelor and Master degree program, postgraduate students who need to justify the choice of the topics for their academic research papers. The proposed research topics can also be used as a general outline for the law conferences, relevant reports, presentations and legal research articles.

BORISOVA, Elena Alexandrovna

Doctor of legal sciences
Professor
Department of civil procedure
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
eaborisovaea@gmail.com

Developing provisions on appeals and review of court judgments under Civil, Arbitrazh and Administrative procedure codes of Russian Federation

Key words: Court relief; appeal; cassation; court system; courts; convention standards; review procedures

The article analyzes current trends in the development of Russian laws of procedure, in particular, those concerned with appeals, cassation and oversight procedure.

FILIPPOV, Pavel Aleksandrovich

Candidate of legal sciences
Associate Professor
Department of criminal law and criminology
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
pilipov@yandex.ru

Attempt on life of law enforcement officer: issues of doctrine and classification

Key words: Criminal responsibility; crimes against administrative order; attempt on life; law enforcement officer

Criminal responsibility for an attempt on life of a law enforcement officer, a military or their immediate family has been long established in Russian criminal law. However, the doctrine of criminal law still has to settle upon each element of this crime, such situation adversely affects law enforcement practice. The article analyzes the elements of the crime, subject to article 317 of the RF Criminal Code, from the point of theory of law. The author puts forward proposals, which may contribute to further development of these norms.

GURBANOVA, Gyulnara Aleskerovna

Postgraduate
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
ggurbanovaa@yandex.ru

Unlawful detention of special categories of victims: legal regulation and law enforcement

Key words: Criminal law; criminal laws; unlawful detention; classification of unlawful detention; factual error; helpless people; special category of people

The author analyzes legal regulation of responsibility for the unlawful detention of minors and pregnant women. Given the examples of specific criminal cases the author analyzes the classification of the elements of the crime. Besides, the author calls for the introduction of a new element of the unlawful detention such as crime against minors and helpless people.

GUSTOVA, Lidia Vyacheslavovna

Postgraduate
Department of customs, administrative and financial law
N.G. Chernyshevskogo Saratov State University leadermail@rambler.ru

CHANNOV, Sergey Evgenievich

Doctor of legal sciences
Head of department of employment law
Stolybin Volga Region Institute of Administration
RANEPA
sergeychannov@yandex.ru

Rotation in internal affairs bodies

Key words: Civil service; internal Affairs bodies; anti-corruption; rotation
The authors outline the problems related to rotation process within internal affairs bodies, which stem from insufficient legal regulation, which contains corruptogenic factors. The authors share their views on the possibility to eliminate imperfection of the norms.

NORVARTYAN, Yuri Sergeevich

Candidate of legal sciences
Senior lecturer
Department of criminal law and criminology
S.P. Koroleva National Research University in Samara norvartyan@yandex.ru

Criminal defence to transmission of infectious diseases

Key words: Criminal defence; infecting with infectious diseases; HIV transmission; transmission of venereal diseases

The author has carried out a comprehensive analysis of criminal defences as provided in the explanatory note to the article 122 of the RF Criminal code. The author suggests extending the defence to include not only HIV transmission but also transmission of other life-threatening diseases.

SCHENNIKOVA, Larisa Vladimirovna

Doctor of legal sciences
Professor
Head of Department of civil law
Kuban State University Law Faculty shchennikova_larisa@mail.ru

State registration of rights to real estate: enhancing legal regulation

Key words: State registration; real estate; rights to real estate; right in things; civil legislation; notary; notarial form of transaction

The article examines provisions of the Federal Law on 'The State Registration of Rights to Real Estate', which was put into effect on the 1st of January 2017. The article calls for consolidating the two procedures: notarial attestation and state registration of rights to real estate.

SHCHERBAK, Nataliya Valerievna

Candidate of legal sciences
Associate professor
Department of civil law
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
NVShcherbak@yandex.ru

Legal issues related to works for hire

Key words: Works made for hire; work for hire; patent under work for hire; exclusive right of employer; right to use; right of authorship; right to credit for work; labor function; scope of worker's duties

The article analyzes law provisions regulating works made for hire – works for hire and patents under work for hire. Although the highest court instances have expressed their view on the matter, yet there is still lack of agreement on the question of whether norms regulating works made for hire can be applied by analogy to, for example, works developed by students in the course of the educational process.

TELYUKINA, Marina Viktorovna

Doctor of legal sciences
Professor
The Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration
marwict@rambler.ru

KULIKOV, Evgeniy Stanislavovich

Candidate of legal sciences
Associate professor
The Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration
eskulikov@mail.ru

Economic partnership and its status within civil, corporate and bankruptcy law

Key words: Economic partnership; corporation; share capital; innovation activity; venture; bankruptcy; receivership relations; corporate relations; civil relations; limitation of legal capacity

Economic partnership as a form of business has become a widely debated topic. While some scholars believe this construct represents a bundle of abuses, others are convinced this is the only form of incorporation, which can help implement innovation and venture projects bypassing impeding formalities. The authors discuss various aspects of economic partnership incorporation, its business management, and liquidation as a result of bankruptcy, and examine the related issues of legal theory and practice.

TOM SINOV, Vladimir Alekseevich

Doctor of legal sciences
Professor
Lomonosov Moscow State University Law School
tomsinov@yandex.ru

'Do not go there — there is Death with word Freedom on its forehead!' — lessons of February-March 'revolution' of 1917 in Russia. Article fourth.

Key words: Russian Empire; February-March Revolution of 1917; A.I. Guchkov
The article discusses the intricacies of the so-called February-March revolution of 1917 in Russia. Having reviewed a considerable number of historical documents the author analyzes this historical event from legal perspective.